Plant Here

Let's face it, plants are smarter than humans and will outlive us all. So, of course, they deserve the best pedestal or planter. Like humans, they have different needs and conditions to thrive, which Plant Here by Addi responds to with a playful and accessible design.

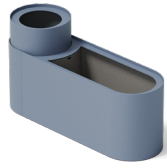

The modular planters fulfill many of the needs and functions that a modern urban grower or office cultivator might want. Like a generous depth, a plastic inner pot for easy planting, watering and maintenance, and varied heights, shapes, sizes and colors. Combined in groups, they create green oases and eye-catching installations where the imagination knows no bounds.
